Summary

With a distinguished academic background spanning over four decades, I bring a wealth of expertise in linguistics, language teaching, and educational leadership. Holding a Ph.D. in Linguistics from El Neelain University, earned in 2014, I have continuously pursued excellence in the field, honing my skills and knowledge to stay at the forefront of linguistic research and pedagogical practices.

My journey in academia began with a Bachelor's Degree in Education, specializing in English and History, from the esteemed Faculty of Education at Khartoum University in 1979. This foundational education laid the groundwork for my subsequent achievements, culminating in a Master's Degree in Teaching English as a Second Language/English as a Foreign Language (ESL/EFL) from Florida State University in 1986. This international experience broadened my perspective and equipped me with innovative teaching methodologies to cater to diverse learners.
